

Bear witness to one of nature's greatest forces.

The Power of Hope.

Though many of us at Entergy Nuclear Northeast live and work in the New York region, the company's heart and corporate headquarters lies in New Orleans.

The hurricane was devastating, and it will take years to recover from the loss of life and property, but we are taking action now to help those in need.

That is why Entergy has established a fund to help those who were impacted by Hurricane Katrina. The fund, called the Power of Hope, will be used to help disaster victims rebuild their lives in the aftermath of the storm.

Entergy Corporation has started the fund with a contribution of $1 million.

As Entergy launches one of the largest power restoration efforts in the nation's history, we are equally concerned about reaching out to help Katrina victims restore their lives. Together, we can rebuild and put this storm behind us. Because the power of Katrina is no match for the power of hope.

Tax-deductible contributions can be sent to:
